Caledonia to have more freedoms

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Paris France announced a sweeping, hard-fought agreement Saturday aimed at granting more autonomy to the restive South Pacific territory of New Caledonia, but stopping short of the independence sought by many indigenous Kanaks. The agreement hailed by President Emmanuel Macron as "historic" still needs final approval in New Caledonia, a nickel-rich archipelago east of Australia and 10 time zones away from Paris. The accord may face a vote by New Caledonians in February. The accord proposes the creation of a state of Caledonia within the French republic and inscribed in the French constitution, and the creation of a "Caledonian nationality" alongside French nationality, according to excerpts viewed by The Associated Press. It was reached after 10 days of negotiations including a final overnight marathon — with representatives of the central government and those on both sides of the independence question. The talks stemmed from deadly rioting last year prompted by proposed changes to electoral rules that would marginalize indigenous voters.

The accord will help "us get out of the spiral of violence," said Emmanuel Tjibaou, a Kanak lawmaker who took part in the talks, as he and other sleepless negotiators announced the accord in a gilded hall Saturday evening in the Elisees presidential palace in Paris. He described a difficult path ahead but one that would allow Kanaks and other Caledonians to move forward together as "us" instead of divided. Those seeking to keep New Caledonia firmly in the French fold halted the accord.

A special congress will be held to finalize next steps, which could include more sovereignty for New Caledonia over issues of international affairs and justice.

Biggest Mars rock on auction

ASSOCIATED PRESS

New York A 5.4-pound (25-kilogram) rock, estimated auction price $2 million to $4 million. Why so expensive? It's the largest piece of Mars ever found on Earth. Sotheby's in New York will be auctioning what's known as NWA 16788 on Wednesday as part of a natural history-themed sale that also includes a juvenile Ceratosaurus dinosaur skeleton that's more than 6 feet tall and nearly 11 feet long.

According to the auction house, the meteorite is believed to have been blown off the surface of Mars by a massive asteroid strike before
