Interview Process for New Club Members

Club member selection

Date: September 2026

Event report

IoSC EDC conducted an interview process in September 2026 to select new members for the club. The process aimed to identify students who demonstrated enthusiasm for technology, a willingness to learn, effective communication, and an interest in contributing to the club's activities.

The interviews provided an opportunity to understand candidates' interests, existing skills, problem-solving approaches, and readiness to work collaboratively. The selection process also helped assess how prospective members could contribute to the club's technical and functional teams.

Through this initiative, the club sought to bring in motivated students who could actively participate in projects, events, and community initiatives while continuing to develop their technical and interpersonal skills. The recruitment process supported the club's goal of building a committed and collaborative team for the academic year.
