Student Induction Program

Welcoming new students to IoSC EDC

Date: August 2026

Event report

The Intel OneAPI Students Club participated in the college's Student Induction Program to introduce newly admitted students to the club and its activities. The session provided an overview of IoSC EDC's objectives, functioning, specialised technical teams, and opportunities for students to explore technology and develop practical skills.

The students were also introduced to the club's past events, technical initiatives, hackathons, and project-based learning activities. The session aimed to familiarise newcomers with the club's working culture and encourage them to participate in its future initiatives.

The induction program served as an important first step in connecting new students with the club's community, helping them understand the opportunities available for technical growth, collaboration, and extracurricular engagement.
